Proposed Legislation 2026
High Priority
AB 35	Alvarez [D]	This legislation, would exempt the adoption of regulations needed to effectuate or implement programs of the act from the requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (APA). The bill would require a state entity that receives funding through Proposition 4 to administer a competitive grant program established using the Administrative Procedure Act exemption to do certain things, including develop draft project solicitation and evaluation guidelines and to submit those guidelines to the Secretary of the Natural Resources Agency, except as provided. The bill would require the Secretary of the Natural Resources Agency to post an electronic form of the guidelines submitted by a state entity and the subsequent verifications on the Natural Resources Agency's internet website. AB 634	Gonzalez [R]	The legislation intends to add tianeptine to the Schedule I category of controlled substances, reflecting the highest level of legal restriction. This action is intended to limit the potential misuse and abuse of the substance by prohibiting its manufacture and sale unless explicitly allowed. The bill emphasizes the importance of this classification to curb the substance's availability and mitigate associated risks to public health. AB 643	Wilson [D]	AB 643 mandates a 75% reduction in organic waste disposal to landfills by 2025 to combat methane emissions. The bill tasks the Department of Resources Recycling and Recovery, along with the State Air Resources Board, with formulating associated regulations. Local jurisdictions are empowered to utilize organic materials as agricultural soil amendments to meet these goals, provided they follow specific guidelines. This approach aims to enhance California's climate resilience through sustainable waste management practices. AB 748	Harabedian [D]	AB 748 authorizes the development and use of preapproved single-family and multifamily housing plans that local agencies may adopt to expedite housing approvals and reduce duplicative design review. The bill adds Section 65852.29 to the Government Code, allowing a property owner to build housing consistent with a jurisdiction's preapproved plan without undergoing additional design review, provided the housing meets the criteria of the adopted plan. This aims to accelerate production of housing units while maintaining local standards for design and land use, reducing processing time and cost for both agencies and developers. The bill is intended to support increased housing supply and consistency in planning approaches across jurisdictions. AB 1710	Carrilo [D]	AB 1710 redefines the criteria for "ordinances, policies, and standards" within housing development, adding materials, requirements, and standards imposed by other public agencies. It mandates compliance with existing plans and standards at the time of a preliminary application. The bill aligns with the Permit Streamlining Act, requiring projects considered for housing developments or emergency shelters to meet consistency and compliance evaluations. This bill enforces a state-mandated local program impacting all cities, including charter cities, and affects provisions for mandated cost reimbursements to local agencies. AB 1777	Garcia [D]	AB 1777 would amend the Health and Safety Code to explicitly authorize the California Air Resources Board (CARB) to adopt regulations to reduce or mitigate emissions from indirect sources of air pollution, such as facilities, land uses, and activities that attract mobile emission sources like trucks, trains, and other vehicles. The bill clarifies that CARB can take this action when necessary to achieve ambient air quality standards required under federal law, expanding the agency's authority beyond current direct vehicle emissions regulation. It aims to fill gaps where regional indirect source rules have been adopted locally but no consistent statewide mechanism exists to reduce pollution from high-traffic indirect sources.
