Exhibit “A” Scope of Work

Development and Operation of a Real-Time Ocean Acidification and Hypoxia Mooring

Background: Orange County Sanitation District (OC San) requires a real-time mooring to monitor the ocean acidification and hypoxia (OAH) state of the nearshore waters on the San Pedro Shelf. This would also complement ongoing observations collected at the nearby Newport Beach Pier. Scripps Institute of Oceanography’s (SIO) Ocean Time Series Group (OTSG) has developed a low-cost mooring system that is easy-to-deploy and operate in shallow coastal regions, which is ideally suited for OC San’s needs.

Purpose: The primary goal of this contract is to adapt the existing mooring design to this application and to deploy, operate it in Year 1, and to maintain it for another year in Year 2. OC San will provide vessel services for deployments and recoveries. Swap-out operations are planned initially every 6 months, and data will be quality controlled using approved required US Integrated Ocean Observing System (IOOS) data quality checking routines and delivered in real-time to the Southern California Coastal Ocean Observing System (SCCOOS) data portal (<https://data.caloos.org>).

Duration/Cost: The total cost for this 2-year contract is $237,235, which includes $159,066 in Year 1 to develop and deploy the mooring including the initial 6-month operation, and the first swap-out and subsequent 6-month operation, and $78,169 in Year 2 for the 12-month operation and two swap-outs.

Scope of Work: The scope of work includes:

1. Upgrade and adapt the current mini-mooring design.
2. Acquire a SeapHOx sensor(s) (or equivalent) measuring pH, oxygen concentration, temperature, and salinity, and integrate it into the mooring including real-time data delivery.
3. Carry out testing and on-land “burn-in” to assure proper functioning prior to deployment.
4. Together with OC San staff, and using a ship provided by OC San, deploy the mini-mooring in approximately 30m water depth.
5. Provide Data Management consisting of
 - (a) Real-time data retrieval from the mooring
 - (b) Real-time data QC following at minimum the required IOOS QUARTOD standards
 - (c) Dissemination of the data to SCCOOS’s data portal
6. Provide technical support for swap-out of mooring components every 6 months, and provide consumable mini-mooring components that need to be replaced. OC San will be responsible for acquiring a spare SeapHOx sensor (or equivalent) for the periods when the recovered needs to be serviced.
7. Provide trouble-shooting support in case of malfunction of components of the OAH mooring.
